Synods Approve Pension Plan For Pastors

RETIREMENT PROVISION REMOVED

Synodical College Project In Arizona Is Outlined; Men Banquet Tonight

The delegates to the synods of Arizona and California, meeting at the annual synod of the Presbyterian church today approved the new pension plan for retired Presbyterian ministers, formulated and explained by Dr. Henry B. Master, general secretary of the pension boards of the Presbyterian churches of the United States.

Dr. Master, whose headquarters are in Philadelphia, outlined the various portions of the new pension plan in an address delivered before the delegates in the main auditorium of the Glendale Presbyterian church at the morning business session. His address followed reports by the committees on state church federation, ministerial relief and ministers' home.

The new pension law as outlined, which will become effective April 1, 1926, provided certain conditions are met, will pay every Presbyterian minister, missionary and commissioned worker a minimum pension of $600 yearly at the age of 65 years, without retirement, Dr. Master said. Under the present plan no pensions are paid by the pension board except after retirement.

The pension fund is provided, Dr. Master said, in the following manner: Ministers to contribute two and one-half per cent of their annual salary, and the salary paying agency of every minister to contribute one-half and one-half per cent of the annual amount paid.

For Long Service
The maximum pension provided under the new plan, Dr. Master said, would go to ministers who had served thirty-five years and who had been members of the fund for 35 years, and would equal one-half of the average yearly salary received over the period of thirty-five years. The present maximum amount is $2,000, and the minimum amount is $600.

This new plan was adopted by the general assembly at the annual meeting held in Grand Rapids, Mich., last May. Dr. Master said, and commended to the various synods. Since that time a number of synods have adopted the plan.

Three Conditions
The three conditions outlined by Dr. Master under which the new system would become effective April 1, 1926, are:

The plan must be accepted by at least 4,000 Presbyterian ministers.

The plan must be accepted by at least 4,000 Presbyterian churches.

A committee appointed by the general assembly must secure at least $15,000,000 to meet accrued liabilities and to be used in stabilizing the plan after it is in operation.

Proposed College
Another matter of importance brought up at the morning business sessions came in the meeting of the Arizona synod in Room 201 when Dr. Dirk A. Lay, former moderator of Arizona, and Rev. Victor A. Rube, of Phoenix, told of a proposed synodical college for Arizona.

This synodical college would be located in the Salt River valley, probably at Chandler, its sponsors said. An offer of a suitable tract in this vicinity has been made, it was announced, and prominent business men in the valley have pledged themselves to raise the initial amount needed to start the college, it was said.

It will require $100,000 to get the college started, Dr. Lay said, and afterwards, additional funds would be necessary for maintenance and expansion. It is hoped to maintain the college by endowment funds after it is started, according to the delegates.

Names Committee
Moderator George S. Sloan, of Miami, appointed the following delegates as members of a committee to look into the project

Lunatic Saves Girl From Being Killed By Speeding Train

STOCKTON, Cal., July 26.—Search among the inmates of the Stockton hospital for insane failed to reveal today the hero who saved 9-year-old Dorothy Kousser from death on the Southern Pacific railroad tracks near the home. The unknown lunatic leaped a wall and freed the shoe of the child which had caught in the track as a freight train bore down upon her. After releasing the child the man returned to his task in the field of the institution and today none of the inmates remembered the incident.

WHEAT CROP FAR SHORT, ESTIMATE

Produce 46,000,000 Bushels Less Than Last Year, Government Reports

WASHINGTON, July 26.—America's wheat crop this year will fall 46,000,000 bushels short of last year, the department of agriculture estimated today.

In a report on the wheat crop, the department predicted a production this year of 740,000,000 bushels. This production, coupled with a "carry over" of 102,000,000 bushels, compared with 888,000,000 bushels, last year's total. It was estimated that 34,000,000 bushels were held in interior mills and elevators on July 1, as compared with 37,000,000 bushels last year.

Import Reduction
This year's 102,000,000 bushels carry over was said to be virtually the same as last year's. The department's report said the amount of wheat to be imported this year, was, of course, problematical, but added that with the increased duty it is doubtful whether much will be imported, except in bond milling purposes.

BULLETS RAIN ON CONSUL'S OFFICE

Life of U. S. Representative Menaced by Fire In Brazil Revolt

WASHINGTON, July 26.—The American consulate at Sao Paulo has been struck by bullets in the battle between Brazilian rebels and government forces, it was announced today by the state department, following receipt of official advices from Brazil.

The shells damaged the consulate building, but no American lives were lost.

Lives Endangered
The firing endangered the lives of the American consul and his official family, it was learned, although no one was injured. A similar bombardment ten days ago, during which heavy artillery shells exploded within a block of the consulate, prompted that official to appeal to the state department for the dispatch of American warships to the scene.

American warships are being held in the Caribbean sea, which would be available for duty in Brazilian waters.

MORGAN TO EUROPE

NEW YORK, July 26.—J. P. Morgan, international financier, whose $100,000,000 credit for France stopped the decline of the French currency, sailed for London today to lend a hand, if he should be called upon, in bringing the allied reparations conference to a successful conclusion.

POST OFFICE MOVING TO NEW HOME

East Broadway Structure Will Be Open to Public On Monday Morning

Glendale's new postoffice building will be opened to the public Monday morning, Postmaster D. Ripley Jackson announced today. All the equipment is being moved from the location on West Broadway to the new quarters on East Broadway between Jackson and Kenwood streets.

All windows at the postoffice were closed at noon today in order to permit the moving of equipment and supplies. Signs posted about the office informed the general public that stamps could be purchased at the following sub-stations: 139 North Brand boulevard, 616 East Broadway, San Fernando road and Brand boulevard, and at 1129 North Central avenue.

Work at High Speed
The crew of workmen sent to Glendale by the fixture factory in San Francisco were working fast and furious today in order to have all the fixtures installed before Monday morning. Delay in the arrival of the fixtures, which were shipped from the factory on July 9 and "lost" on a sidetrack somewhere between the Bay city and Glendale, tied up matters at the new location several days, Postmaster Jackson said.

The safe in which postoffice department funds were kept at the old location was moved to the new quarters this morning by a crew of men consisting of Fred B. Walker, superintendent of mails; C. W. Love, C. J. Donaldson, Chester T. Nye and Kenneth Jackson. The safe was moved on a hand truck in order that the money and records of the office could be under the personal supervision of Superintendent Walker, and to avoid accidents.

Modern Equipment
Glendale will have the finest equipped postoffice for any city of 50,000 population in the United States, Postmaster Jackson said today. Modern machinery to enable the clerks and other workers to handle the mail with the utmost efficiency and speed have been secured and the number of lock boxes doubled.

Last night, in anticipation of the move, the postoffice employees and their friends attended the Murphy tent show on Stocker street between Central avenue and Brand boulevard in a body. The carriers' band, directed by Victor H. Hoyer, led the parade, which formed at the postoffice and marched to the tent, and provided music between acts.

Deluged With Letters

There has been an intense interest taken in the motor traffic question that was presented in The Evening News about a week ago. So many letters have been received discussing the good, bad and indifferent phases of the traffic department that it is utterly impossible to give them space in the columns of The Evening News. The motoring public is certainly wide awake to its interests.

Former L. A. Prosecutor's Recovery Doubtful, Says Attending Physician

PARIS, July 26.—Thomas Lee Woolwine, former Los Angeles district attorney, who has been critically ill for a week with internal hemorrhages, has but a slight chance for recovery, Dr. Tsanck, one of his French physicians, announced at 7 o'clock tonight.

The family has called George M. Converse, specialist at the American hospital, for a consultation with Dr. Tsanck and Dr. Gilbert, another French physician. "Mr. Woolwine still has a chance for recovery, but it is slight," Dr. Tsanck said.

Denies P. E. Will Cut Needed Train Service

LOS ANGELES, July 26.—Contrary to reports spread by unreliable news service dispatches the Pacific Electric railway will NOT reduce one car on ALL three and four-car trams running to Glendale, Pasadena and the beaches. In its report to the State Railroad commission the interurban company stated it would eliminate extra cars where travel opportunity affords, but it will not discontinue commuters.

BOY SLAYERS JUST 'QUEER' IS CLAIM

Defense Makes Big Effort To Have Accused Put In Prison For Life

By GEO. R. HOLMES
For International News Service.

CHICAGO, July 26.—The extensive tests made for weeks by the "million dollar" corps of alienists on Nathan Leopold, Jr., and Richard Loeb, charged with the murder of Robert Franks, have shown them not to be insane and the sanity of the defendants will not be a part of the defense maneuvers. This was authoritatively reported here today.

"Legally sane, perhaps, but pathologically queer," that, in substance, it was learned today, will be the peg on which the attorneys and alienists will seek to hang their contention that Leopold, Jr., and Loeb should not go to the gallows for the brutal kidnapping and murder of little Robert Franks, but instead should be confined in prison for the rest of their natural lives.

Darrow Makes Charge
The weird moral code of young Leopold, built up on the strange foundation that "murder is no crime, the crime is in getting caught," was spread upon the records of this unusual trial today and the attorneys for the young collegians looked upon it as one of their best cards.

The indirect charge that the prosecution has introduced into the Leopold-Loeb murder trial "fabricated testimony" for the purpose of "intimidating" Justice John R. Caverly, in whose hands rests the life or death of the young slayers, was suddenly shot into the record this morning by Clarence Darrow, chief of the defense counsel.

Long Cross-Examination
Darrow made his charge during a tedious two-hour cross-examination of Detective-Sergeant James J. Gortland, who had custody of young Leopold immediately after his arrest, and who yesterday testified to some amazing conversations he had with the student.

The part of Gortland's testimony that Darrow took violent exception to was not his quoting of young Leopold as saying he felt no sorrow for his little victim or the boy's family, but his quoting of the young slayer as saying that he "could plead not guilty before a jury and be handed or plead guilty before a friendly judge and get life imprisonment."

Soon after Darrow finished with the sergeant, Justice Caverly adjourned court until 10 o'clock Monday morning, at which time it is expected the state will conclude its case, save for the introduction of alienists' testimony.

FLOODS IN INDIA TAKE HEAVY TOLL

Thousands Made Homeless, Many Lives Lost When Towns Are Swept

LONDON, July 26.—Many lives have been lost, scores of towns inundated and thousands of houses destroyed by floods in South India, according to dispatches today from Bombay.

Communications have been disrupted throughout the flooded district. Railroad tracks have been washed out and many bridges destroyed.

At least 10,000 houses have been wrecked, the dispatch said, and distress is acute.

Los Angeles Seeks To Win Terminus of World Air Flight

LOS ANGELES, July 26.—A barrage of telegrams dispatched today to President Calvin Coolidge, the secretary of war, the secretary of the navy and other government officials in Washington by the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce initiated a battle of cities to secure for Southern California the terminus of the round the world air flight. The contest resulted from reports that officials of the air service favored Seattle as the final point in the record-making journey of United States airmen.

ARGENTINANS ON WORLD FLIGHT

AMSTERDAM, July 26.—Another round-the-world flight got under way at 6:30 a. m. today, when Major Zanni, Argentine flier, and two companions, hopped off in a Fokker plane for an eastward trip about the globe.

Reports coming back to Amsterdam said the fliers were forced down at Rotterdam by low visibility, but after a short wait resumed the flight towards Paris and passed over Brussels at 10:15.

They were scheduled to make a stop at Le Bourget air field outside Paris and expected to proceed immediately to Rome via Lyons, reaching the Italian capital tonight.

Major Zanni plans to follow the course the American fliers mapped out in their westward flight from California.

Major Zanni is "flying light."

The only food supplies he took from here were some bars of chocolate and a few pints of liquor.

Behind Schedule

NOTED AUTHOR OBTAINS FINAL DECREE

LOS ANGELES, July 26.—Final decree of divorce was granted here today to Gouverneur Morris, famous author. Morris obtained his interlocutory decree a year ago, charging desertion. At the time the author testified that his wife, Elsie, preferred to live in New York City rather than with him in "a quiet spot" which he said his work required. Mrs. Morris, it was said, operated a beauty parlor in New York. Two children of the couple are in the custody of Mrs. Morris, who made a property settlement with the writer out of court.

BRIDAL PARTY SOARS INTO CLOUDS FOR CEREMONY

Miss Emily L. Pierce and Thomas V. Philp Wed In Dr. Young's Plane

Glendale's first airplane marriage was performed 3000 feet above the city this morning, Saturday, July 26, 1924, uniting Miss Emily L. Pierce and Thomas V. Philp, both prominent in the younger social set. The flying parson was Rev. Charles M. Calderwood, pastor of the First Congregational church of Glendale. The plane was the "Argonaut," owned and piloted by Dr. T. C. Young.

The ceremony took place directly above the home at 1357 Virginia avenue, built by Mr. Philp for his bride and where the young couple will live on their return from their honeymoon. The plane took off at 11:20 o'clock and was in the air twenty minutes, making a perfect landing at 11:40 o'clock. The bride wore a yellow sport suit and a white hat. She carried bride roses.

A group of relatives and friends had assembled shortly after 9 o'clock at the Glendale Airport, where the flight was made. Among them were Mrs. Mary E. Pierce of 616 East Orange Grove avenue, mother of the bride; Mrs. Ella F. Philp of 221 North Orange street, mother of the groom; Robert T. and James G. Philp, brothers of the groom; Miss Annie Philp, an aunt of the bridegroom; Miss Alice Pooley, a friend; Mrs. T. C. Young, wife of Dr. Young; Chief A. H. Lankford, of the Glendale fire department; Captain Ralph Dodsworth, H. L. Christman, J. F. Thomas and A. J. Psenner, all of the Glendale fire department, where the bridegroom is captain of Station Number 3. Miss Pierce has been assistant to Dr. Young in his office for the past year.

Under Camera Fire
Before the bride and bridegroom-to-be went up, Dr. Young and Chief Lankford took the air for a trial flight. The flight and the landing were both perfect and Miss Pierce, Mr. Philp and Rev. Calderwood then entered the cabin of the plane, while cameras cracked and snapped. They taxied down the field, still under a barrage of camera fire, turned and started back for the take-off—when suddenly something went wrong and the plane lurched giddily and came to a rocking stop. Examination revealed that in churning through a field knee-high in wild clover and full of gopher holes, they had blown a tire and cracked a propeller blade.

While mechanics toiled over the machine for an hour, directed by Dr. Young and Chief Lankford, the bride and bridegroom-to-be

DENIES PLAN TO ABSORB BURBANK

Annexation Entirely Up to Voters, Asserts Deputy L. A. City Attorney

BURBANK, July 26.—Robert Hanley, deputy Los Angeles city attorney, and the man said to be closest to annexation matters, denied before the last meeting of the local Rotary club that Los Angeles has any intention of "gobbling up" Burbank. If the city wants to annex it, may institute the necessary proceedings, he declared, stating: "Burbank is white and of voting age. When a majority of the residents vote to come in, Los Angeles will extend a hand of greeting. There will, however, be no urging on our part."

Charge Dismissed

After listening to the evidence in the case of the people versus G. C. Neal, C. Parker, Earl Ritter, alias Earl Williams and C. Thompson, who have been held in the city jail for several days on the charge of having in their possession "certain properties for the manufacture of intoxicating liquors," in other words a still, Judge A. A. Crawford has dismissed the case, stating that the charges against the men had not been proven, although the circumstances connecting them with the case were suspicious. All of the men reside in Burbank with the exception of Thompson, who comes from Los Angeles.

COMMENT That's All

How Many See Right? Science of Testing Vision Good Eyesight, Longer Life See Opportunities Here

By Gil A. Cowan

Many are the times in this rapidly developing country that writers are prone to speak of visionaries—people who have vision to see the future.

It is a very nice word—vision—meaning to see, but how many of us actually do see with any degree of satisfaction.

And what we see with our eyes gives us the insight, foresight and so on.

It was Dr. Warren Z. Newton's privilege Thursday to introduce Dr. Frederick A. Woll of Columbia university as the speaker of the day at the Rotary club luncheon.

Dr. Woll, it might be explained again, is teaching at the summer session of the University of California. He is not teaching the fitting of glasses, as one might imagine, although he does that work, but he is training teachers and nurses in the science of testing vision.

For instance, he stated that he sent his class home with a headache one day this week from writing on the blackboard under different conditions of illumination. In other words, he exhausted their vision purposely to prove how easily the child's ability to see in the school room is controlled by drawn shades, small arabes on the blackboard and so on.

Of course, the general public is not greatly interested in such enlightenment as witness the lack of lights covering the subject, yet it is a fact that productivity can be increased 25 per cent by proper lighting as compared with poorly lighted quarters; longevity also depends on the eyes because those who cannot see well are subject to nervous disorders and headaches and heaven knows what else.

A striking statement by the doctor, which he attributed to exhaustive investigations, is that no one has perfect eyes, although some may be considered normal. It behooves one and all to maintain eyesight as near normal as possible. The science of optometry is a detector of trouble, but it is the application of common sense principles in the care of the eyes that makes for proper vision.

Had you been a resident of Glendale ten years ago and had vision you would have invested your dollars in the future of this city.

If you had been here five years ago with the same vision you would have invested many more dollars in this "fastest growing city."

And five years hence you will wish you had grasped the opportunity offered today in the best buys listed by the real estate men. No fooling, folks, Glendale is predestined to be Los Angeles' largest and most modern suburb.

BEAN CROP WILL NET BIG REVENUE

Valley Products to Exceed Expectations, Belief of Farm Experts

VAL NUYS, July 26.—The baby lima beans of this district are sturdy infants and promise to make their guardians tidy sums, thanks largely to the foggy mornings of the past ten days. The peak strain on the reservoirs has been reached and passed and indications are that not only beans but numerous other crops throughout the San Fernando valley are going to exceed all expectation.

W. B. De Nure of the Los Angeles public service department states that when the late revisions were made in water allotments, they were on a basis of 39,000 acre feet for the season. Up to the present 22,000 acre feet of water have been used, leaving on hand for delivery 17,000 acre feet. Of this amount 5,000 acre feet have been allotted to citrus acreage, leaving 12,000 acre feet available for miscellaneous crops.

Sturdy Plants That this amount will be sufficient to mature the bean crop is evidenced by the new methods being employed by various growers. The beans have been kept well hilled up and allowed time to send down their roots prior to irrigation, thus resulting in a much sturdier plant which will, without question, bring about a more uniform product. Last minute irrigation before picking is being discouraged by many growers, who believe that in many cases it works more harm than good.

Plenty of Water

Wells that have been drilled in various parts of the valley are bringing in remarkable flows of water, and this supply will further augment the amount needed to care for the various crops. It is said that the first of the test wells, near Vanowen and Whitsett, is bringing in 250 inches of water and that the flow will be turned into the main trunk line, instead of into surface flumes down the wash, as some difficulty was experienced in procuring rights of way.

Athletes Start Club in Tunjunga

Fourteen Charter Members Organize to Foster Healthy Sports

TUNJUNGA, July 26.—An athletic club, the "Tunjunga Trojans," has been formed among the older boys of Tunjunga which will have for its purpose the promotion of clean sport and stimulating interest in athletic activities. Officers were elected at a meeting held at 770 East El Centro street as follows: President, Dwight Stewart; vice-president, Marshall Anderson; secretary, Solon Stewart; treasurer, Edward Rehm; sergeant-at-arms, Nathaniel Zitto.

The club was started with a charter membership of fourteen, being: Solon Stewart, Joseph Pedrotta, Jack Johnson, Edward Rehm, Thomas Carroll, Nathaniel Zitto, Francis Chatfield, Marshall Anderson, Robert Rutherford, Dwight Stewart, Edward Jacobs, Quig Tennant, Elbert Johnson, Carroll White.

Football will be the first game to be practiced by the new club and the members expect to be playing in a month. There is move being fostered by civic organizations of the La Crescenta and Tunjunga valleys to promote inter-community athletics among the school pupils. The Tunjunga Trojans will make an effort to secure suitable grounds for staging baseball and football games, the school grounds being considered too rocky for these games.

Enrollment in the Daily Vacation Bible School being conducted jointly by the Methodist and Congregational churches, has now reached slightly more than seventy-five and prospects are good for a continuation of the increase to the 100 mark before the close of the school which is reported to be proving a very decided success and attracting much interest as well as providing excellent courses of study directed by a capable and efficient corps of teachers.

Services Continue

Evangelistic services in the Nazarene Gospel tent are being continued another week. Many of the people of the community are showing their interest by being present at nearly every service. One thing that characterizes this campaign is the great love and fellowship among Christians of the various denominations. Everyone is made to feel welcome, that each may have a part in the good work.

The Young Matrons' club of the Congregational church will have an all day picnic at Brookside park, Wednesday, July 20.

OPEN DRIVE FOR RICARD MEMORIAL

K. C.'s Plan Observatory for Noted Weather Prophet Of Santa Clara

Formal launching of the Knights of Columbus campaign among the members and their families south of the Tehachapi, in the statewide drive of the "Casesys" to secure $100,000 to erect the Father Ricard Observatory Memorial will be carried out at a special meeting in the K. of C. hall, 612 South Flower street, Los Angeles, to be presided over by Harry L. Mulcrey, chairman of the committee, tonight. Mulcrey, accompanied by Joseph O'Connor, vice-chairman of the committee in charge of the campaign, will arrive in that city this morning from San Francisco.

State Deputy Thomas P. White of Los Angeles, who is taking an active interest in the Ricard Memorial drive, will address the supreme convention of the Knights of Columbus, to be held in New York City, August 4 to August 7, in behalf of the movement.

Tribute to Padre
 The plan of the "Casesys" to erect the observatory is in recognition of Father Ricard's work of more than fifty years in the interest of science. For the past twenty-five years Father Ricard, known affectionately as the "Padre of the Rains," has sent out daily weather reports and forecasts from his little antiquated weather bureau situated among the palms of the University of Santa Clara.

The "Casesys" plan to formally break ground on the campus of the University of Santa Clara next February, on the occasion of Father Ricard's seventy-fifth anniversary, to lay the cornerstone in the late spring of 1925, and to dedicate the structure a year hence.

On Tuesdays and Saturdays the pool will be open for girls only from 1 to 3 o'clock in the afternoon. On Tuesday and Thursday nights from 5 to 7 o'clock the pool will be open for adults only.

Pool for Children
 The pool at Patterson avenue park is 30 by 90 feet, one foot deep at the shallow end and eight feet deep at the other end. A separate circular wading pool one foot deep throughout is provided for younger children and is always open. Frank M. Lipstreu was recently appointed life guard by the park commission and is on duty during all the hours mentioned above, ensuring the safety of bathers.

P. N. Bennett, recently appointed superintendent of the pool, is also on duty at those hours, as is Mrs. A. Floyd, a trained nurse in the employ of the city. There is also a lookout boy on duty. R. Ernest Tucker, as superintendent of playgrounds, is frequently at the park and is doing a great deal to organize healthy play for the children. Mr. Warren states.

Play Facilities
 To this end a sand pit, circular swing, slide and other recreation facilities have been provided. A shady booth with tables allows many to come with their children and enjoy a picnic lunch or supper. Considerable new equipment has been authorized and is being installed. A number of open-air concerts will be held at Patterson avenue park during the summer and fall. The tennis courts are being put in shape and in every way the park is being groomed for its biggest summer of activity.

Completely appointed locker rooms and showers adjoin the pool, separate quarters being provided for girls and boys. A good supply of woolsen suits is on hand, together with large quantities of towels. A nominal charge of 5 cents is made to enter the pool, an additional 5 cents being charged for a bathing suit and towel. For adults, the pool charge is 15 cents and the suit and towel another 10 cents. Thus children can bathe for 10 cents and adults for 25 cents.

Modern Laundry
 This charge is to partially cover the expenses borne by the city in operating the park. Mr. Warren states, Suits and towels are laundered with the utmost care, being washed in an electric washing machine in hot suds, rinsed twice and hung in the sun to dry. Mrs. Floyd, the trained nurse, inspects every person before entering the pool, to see that no sore throat or other contagion exists. Last week twelve children were temporarily refused the privilege of the pool, and sent home with a courteous explanation that they were entirely welcome when well, but for the health of the others must not come when sick.

There is ample parking space in and around the Patterson avenue park and Mr. Warren feels that when the recreation possibilities of this fine eight-acre park are fully realized by the people, its present popularity will be greatly increased. The new schedule is an experiment, he states, to determine just how widespread this interest is.

Should the experience at Patterson avenue park this summer warrant it, the park commission will push the plans now under consideration for a large park and pool on the east side of the city, with numerous tennis courts and other recreational facilities for children and adults.

QUEEN'S CONTEST CLOSING TONIGHT

Audrey Haines Leading In Race for Diadem at Club's Carnival

Miss Audrey Haines is the pretty Glendale girl who is leading in the contest for queen of the carnival and industrial show given under the auspices of the Thursday Afternoon club at San Fernando road and South Brand boulevard. Miss Haines was announced as leader this morning with 5600 votes. Other entrants in the contest stood as announced yesterday in The Glendale Evening News.

The contest is to close at 8 o'clock tonight and at 9 o'clock the winner will be announced. Preceding this important event of the show, was the baby show this afternoon. Countless pretty babies were entered and the decision of the judges was most difficult.

At the big tent last night a program of varied interest was enjoyed. Charles Sawhill of the Emerson School of Self-Expression gave a Jewish song in costume, and as an encore sang "Marcheta."

Girls Win Praise
 Many compliments were heard on the camp ceremonial given by Camp Fire Girls of the Weonah wigwam, under the direction of Mrs. R. C. Stillbury. The girls taking part were Dorothy Stamps, Barbara Blake, Audrey Phillips, Marjorie Prialux, Hazel and Veda Stillbury. Dorothy Stamps also gave two solos.

Equally as worth while were the Boy Scout demonstrations given under the supervision of Harvey R. Cheesman, Scout executive.

Besides the closing of the queen contest tonight, there will be Scotch numbers featuring the entertainment program.

Calles to Clamp Lid On Border, Forecast

NOGALES, Ariz., July 26.—"Clamping on of the lid" on the international boundary line between Mexico and the United States and closing of all border towns to exclude cafes, cabarets and other places from selling liquors was forecast here by P. Elias Calles, president-elect of Mexico, in an interview with International News Service. Calles arrived in Nogales this afternoon to visit his son, Audolfo Calles.

One of the outstanding planks of the platform on which Calles was elected provided for national prohibition in Mexico, and he indicated here today that one of the first steps taken by him after assuming office would be to carry out this campaign pledge.

DEATH SUMMONS CHARLES MALLET

Sunset Club Member Dies At Daughter's Home at Age of 93 Years

The Glendale Evening News Sunset club lost one of the charter members in the death, last night, Friday, July 25, 1924, of Charles Mallett, 93 years old, at the home of his daughter, Mrs. R. R. Davis, at 529 North Adams street.

Mr. Mallett was one of the group of "past ninety-year-olds," gathered together over a year ago by The Glendale Evening News to form the Sunset club. Although he was not able to attend any of the club meetings, he maintained an interest in these gatherings and heard with interest of the various affairs for the old people.

In Jackson's Time
 Born June 27, 1831, in Bridge-water, Conn., when Andrew Jackson was president of the United States, Mr. Mallett grew to manhood in his native town. He was the youngest of twelve children, all but two of whom lived to be more than four score years. One member of the family died at the age of 97 years.

As a boy Mr. Mallett attended the nearby school, and when school days were over he worked on his brother's farm and at the carpenter trade. One of his interesting recollections was how the work day used to be measured by sunrise and sunset.

"A mile a day keeps the doctor away" was the slogan Mr. Mallett gave when he became a member of the Sunset club. Although 91 years old then, he enjoyed a long walk every day, and several times paid visits to the News office, and appeared as active as a man of 65.

Voted for Pierce
 Franklin Pierce was the first president Mr. Mallett voted for. He was in 1852, when he had reached the age of 21.

Mr. Mallett is survived by his daughter, Mrs. Davis; by two sons, Daniel E. Mallett of 1313 East California avenue, Glendale, and George H. Mallett of New Haven, Conn.; and by three grandchildren and six great grandchildren.

Funeral Monday
 He had resided in California for twenty years, sixteen of which he spent in Glendale.

Funeral services will be held at 3 o'clock Monday afternoon in the Little Church of the Flowers. The deceased was a life-long member of the Episcopal church, and Dr. George Cornell of Pasadena, who served for some time as rector of St. Mark's church in Glendale, and a beloved friend of Mr. Mallett, will officiate. Jewel City Undertaking company are directors.

Big Game Hunter Turns From Exciting Pursuits To Selling Real Estate

From eight years of hunting big game in the Hudson Bay district of Canada to selling real estate in Glendale is the romantic story of Leo G. Schiller, now with Twining & Myers, realtors, 108 West Broadway.

Craving excitement, Schiller left his home at Sandusky, Ohio, where he was born, and went to Moose Factor, on the west shore of Hudson Bay, in the fall of 1915. There he met an Indian, John Waboumuck, and they put in a year and eight months trapping in the great white wilderness.

Slays Big Moose
 Returning to Ohio in 1917, young Schiller for the next few years conducted hunting parties to the far north from Sandusky and Akron. Moose and grizzly were the principal game they sought. The largest moose ever brought to the States was taken out by Schiller. The antlers had a spread of 63 inches, a web of 16½ inches and numbered 27 points. The moose was shot in the Opsalut river section, province of Ontario.

In 1921 Leo G. Schiller came to California, after an automobile tour with his wife through every state in the Union. The fall and winter of 1922 he spent hunting and touring in Mexico, where he reports the finest duck hunting he has ever encountered. He then became associated with the F. P. Newport company, where he formed the acquaintance of W. L. Twining, former general manager of that company. It is through Mr. Twining that he came to Glendale, and declares it is the finest city in Southern California, not only to live in, but to do business in.

Poet Is Ancestor
 Leo G. Schiller is the son of John H. Schiller, who still lives in Akron. The Schillers trace their ancestry back to the great German poet of that name and it is from that they get their adventuresome natures. For forty years the elder Schiller has been engaged in the real estate business in Ohio, and it is from him that the son has learned the profession.

Writing, however, and not real estate is his real profession. For years he has been contributor to such national magazines as Field and Stream, Outdoor Life, The National Sportsman and Sportology. He has written a full length book called "Where the Yowling Huskies Roam" and has already had an offer for its picturization by a film company.

Plans New Trip
 The book has for its central character a dog, as had Jack London's great book, "The Call of the Wild."

The dog that is the hero of this book is named Au Sable and is a cross between a wild wolf and a German shepherd dog. The dog was born on the river after which it is named, far up in northwest Quebec, in the Hudson Bay district, and it is this that has impressed Schiller most deeply and he is even now planning a new expedition to that white empire of the grizzly, the wolf and the moose.

BAPTIST CHURCH HAS NEW PASTOR

Atwater Park Congregation In Unanimous Call to Rev. M. G. Nelson

The newly-organized Baptist church at Atwater park has extended a unanimous call to Rev. M. Grant Nelson to become the first permanent pastor of the young church. Mr. Nelson has accepted and already entered upon the work of his new charge. He will occupy with his family the new parsonage which is being erected on the lot adjoining the church property at the corner of Perilla avenue and Tyburn street.

Before coming to Atwater park Mr. Nelson had been pastor of the Orchard Avenue Baptist church, Los Angeles, for nearly five years. During his ministry there about one hundred and seventy-five members were added to that church, the current expense budget was doubled, and the missionary offerings were increased three-fold.

Mr. Nelson is a graduate of the University of Southern California, receiving his B. A. degree "cum laude" in February, 1920. In June, 1921, the MacClay College of Theology, upon his completion of the three years' regular theological course, gave him the bachelor of divinity degree, following which he entered the graduate school of the university and received his M. A. in June, 1923.

Mr. Nelson is thoroughly evangelical in faith and strongly evangelistic in his preaching. Mrs. Nelson is in complete accord with her husband in the work and they look forward to a very pleasant and prosperous pastorate in the new field.

TO SIGNAL TO MARS

Astronomers are breathlessly anticipating the event known as the perihelion opposition of Mars which is to occur on August 23, 1924. On that day the planet Mars, ordinarily about 60,000,000 miles away, will be within 34,000,000 miles of the earth. It is only about every fifteen years that this event occurs, and this year the earth and Mars will be a couple of million miles closer than they have been before.

There is more interest and conjecture in regard to Mars than is true of some of the other heavenly bodies, because scientists have been able to make a study of the surface of that planet. Venus is closer to the earth than Mars, and Jupiter and Saturn are usually brighter, but these planets are not really visible to us. What we see is only the cloudy atmosphere that surrounds them, and through which our most powerful telescopes cannot penetrate. So Mars, whose physical features are visible, holds a great fascination for us, and there is much speculation in regard to life and the forces of nature existent there.

As early as 1877, black cross lines were discovered on Mars, and these have ever since been known as the canals of Mars. Whether these are natural waterways or artificial irrigation systems has been the subject of much discussion. In 1892 astronomers discovered snow white polar regions on the planet with a haze rising from them like vapor. They saw the white areas shrink, a bluish fringe like water cling to the edges of the white field, and then the color of the canals changed from black to green, as though vegetation had sprung up.

In 1909 Professor Lowell established an observatory at Flagstaff, Arizona, in order to study Mars during the perihelion opposition, and he observed these same phenomena more clearly and accurately than before. He also discovered that some of the canals were double or twin canals, and he counted 585 canals. In that year, also, it was learned that the density of the atmosphere on Mars is only one-seventh to one-tenth as great as ours, and this provoked a renewal of the discussion as to the kind of life that could exist in such an atmosphere and what effect this rarified air would have on temperature and gravity.

Elaborate preparations are being made to view Mars on August 23. Great improvements have been made in instruments in the last fifteen years, which, it is hoped, will lead to new discoveries and confirmation of old theories. A gigantic electro-heliographing apparatus is being erected on the slope of the Jungfrau that will concentrate the sun's rays from the dazzling snow fields and hurl them like a big searchlight into space, in an attempt to attract the attention of the Martians, if they exist.

Camille Flammarion, the great French astronomer, will watch Mars from the bottom of a mine shaft in Chili, looking through a huge telescope with the mine shaft as a tube.

Up to now, one man's opinion as to the life that exists on Mars is as good as another's. It is to be hoped that the astronomers will be rewarded by some real discoveries in their study of our heavenly neighbor. They tell us to look for Mars precisely at sunset on the evening of August 23, since at that time the sun, the earth and Mars will be in a straight line, the earth between the other two bodies.

STIR UP THE VOTERS

Time and again the apathy of the American people toward their voting privilege has been deplored in these columns. It is a growing and a dangerous tendency, and women and men are about equally culpable. A writer in a national publication says the solution of this problem would do much to destroy the many evils in our machinery of government. He points out that only fifty per cent of registered voters in this country use their privilege, while in England eighty per cent of the people and in Germany ninety per cent vote, and he suggests that newspapers try to reach these lethargic citizens, try to educate them in politics and government, get them to study pending legislation and candidates and try to send at least seventy-five per cent of the registered voters to the polls at the November election.

He recommends that newspapers or other organizations in each state receive signed pledges from the people that they will vote on November 4 and vote for candidates they believe to be honest and unselfish, and that they will uphold the Constitution of the United States; and that the number of these pledges received be given publicity daily. This would create a rivalry among the states as to which one should send the greatest per cent of voters to the polls. It is understood that a national organization of women is already making plans to get the women out to vote by this system of competition among the states.

THE DAWES PLAN

At present it looks as if the Allied conference in London would be able to put into operation the Dawes plan for re-establishing the economic stability of Germany and paving the way for that country to pay her war debts.

While the American members of the committee of business experts, of which General Dawes was the head, who sat with representatives of Great Britain, France, Belgium and Italy to formulate some plan to restore German solvency, were not appointed by our government, their participation in the conference was approved at Washington.

If the Dawes plan does work out (and there seems to be little hope for immediate peace and order in Europe if it fails) America will have done Europe an immense service.

Those who complain of our isolation policy in foreign affairs should give their countrymen credit for the only workable plan yet formulated to restore normal conditions in Europe, whether or not Europe accepts the plan.

Those who can not swim should not rush to the rescue of the drowning. The loss of one life is deplorable, but the loss of two, in this instance, is unnecessary.

Why risk selling fake oil stocks, and a term in prison, when, with a 500 watt electric lamp, you can sell artificial sunburns at $10 a burn—and get by with it?

The father who used to lay rails ten hours for one dollar, now has a son who lays brick one hour for ten dollars.

He slips who is satisfied with his own accomplishment.

THE NEW RING-MASTER

Totems

By DR. FRANK CRANE

Sir James Frazer has given us many interesting observations upon the subject of totems. A totem is the animal, plant or other object, which protects the tribe or clan. Thus, it is the name, title or emblem of the tribe's collective conscience.

One of the first plans of the human animal when he began to think was to form a group with other animals of the same kind. This group had many advantages. It furnished protection as well as social pleasure.

But it also had a very important psychological effect. It profoundly affected his mind. Thinking is mighty hard work, and the group consciousness saved him a lot of thinking.

It does yet. Humanity is much the same as it always was, whether it has existed four thousand years or forty thousand, whether you accept the chronology of theologians or of the scientists. In either case it has not been long. Compared with the stretches of cosmic history, it is but a thin line upon a vast page. We have every reason to believe that the human race is still in its infancy.

Scratch a twentieth century mind and you will find a troglodyte.

Now the greatest offender against the tribe is not the man who refuses to obey the totem and who opposes it. The greatest of all offenders is the man who says that the totem is nothing but a totem. Just as the chief offender among idolaters would be the wretch who claims that the idol is nothing but a piece of wood.

And the great trouble with us is not that we have totems, for, indeed, they have their place and use. The trouble is that we think totem.

Most people do not think at all until they find out what somebody else thinks. Far from esteeming it a weakness to have no opinion except that of the mob, we take great pride in our job ideas. And we cast out as a leper anyone who dares to think for himself. The party calls him a renegade, the church calls him a heretic and the nation calls him a traitor.

Indeed, most of our feelings that we call respect and reverence are nothing but the remnants of the old totem sentiment which our cave-dwelling ancestors experienced.

Horoscope

Although the Sun in benefic aspect dominates this day, according to astrology, there are influences making for uncertainty. Mars and Neptune are adverse.

This should be a most auspicious rule under which to seek work of any sort, and those who look for employment should be most fortunate.

All who hold positions of authority are subject to the best direction of the stars today and should profit greatly.

There is an especially promising direction of the stars for political candidates, the planetary influences making for open-mindedness on the part of the public.

President Coolidge should benefit from the stars of benefic influence in his horoscope at this time, but should beware of sinister aspects later.

Many conflicting aspects have power during the next months, when unrest and discontent will be widely prevalent.

Men and women are again warned that clandestine romances will come under a government of the stars peculiarly unfortunate, making for murders as well as public scandals.

Vanity will be more and more among women, but this will be but the extreme of human nature at a time when intelligence is developing to a place where the feminine mind will gain highest recognition, the seers declare.

The strong position of Mercury is favorable to government affairs, but there will be severe criticism regarding financial policies, if the stars are read aright.

There is a forbidding sign for railway travel in certain parts of the United States. Accidents appear to be forecast.

The conjunction of Mars and the Moon causes astrologers to predict a great deal of illness during the latter part of the summer, when fevers and diseases of the digestive apparatus may be prevalent.

Persons whose birth date it is have the augury of a prosperous year, but they must attend strictly to routine business.

Children born on this day may be headstrong and difficult to manage, but able to win success. These subjects of Leo usually obtain whatever they desire in life.

Deaths from influenza totaled 730 in one week in England and Wales recently.

Who's Who

The next president of the National Educational Association will be Jesse H. Newlon, now superintendent of the city schools of Denver. His name was placed in nomination by the nominating committee at the recent convention.

Newlon is known throughout N. E. circles because of his activities in connection with that organization's work.

He was born in Salem, Washington county, Ind., in 1882. He was graduated from Indiana University in 1907 with an A. B. degree and received his A. M. degree at Columbia University in 1914.

His marriage culminated a college romance, his wife Miss Letha Hiestand of Martinsburg, Ind., having attended Indiana U. She was graduated the same year.

In 1905 Newlon became principal of the high school at Charles town, Ind. Two years later he went to New Albany, Ind., to teach in the high school there. In 1908 he moved to Decatur, Ill., to teach history and civics in the high school there and in 1912 was made principal of that school. Four years later he went to Lincoln, Neb., as superintendent of schools and in 1920 accepted his present position in Denver.

He has served on several educational commissions, has been a co-author on educational administration works and has contributed to various periodicals.

Do You Know

Of 112 automobile manufacturers in Great Britain, only 15 have a production of 1,000 cars or more a year, and these 15 produced 52,500 of the total of 60,000 produced last year.

A railway auto ambulance to operate on the Africa-La Paz railway through a desert region of Chile in which there are no railways, is to be purchased by the government.

Cuba and Argentina bought more cotton hosiery from this country than did England last year, but England purchased more silk hosiery, taking more than 2,000,000 pairs.

Today's Poem

TRULY GREAT

My walls outside must have some flowers,
My walls within must have some books;
A house that's small; a garden large,
And in its leafy nooks.

A little gold that's sure each week;
That comes not from my living kind,
But from a dead man in his grave,
Who cannot change his mind.

A lovely wife, and gentle, too,
Contented that no eyes but mine
Can see her many charms, nor voice
To call her beauty fine.

Where she would in that stone cage live,
A self-made prisoner, with me,
While many a wild bird sang around,
On gate, on bush, on tree.

With this small house, this garden large,
This little gold, this lovely mate,
With health in body, peace at heart—
Show me a man more great.

—William Davies.

"No wonder! Last night Gayboy had a date with a blond and didn't brush off his coat."

ALL IS LOST
It was a fashionable wedding. The bridegroom had no visible means of support save his father, who was rich.

When he came to the stage of the service where he had to repeat, "With all my worldly goods I thee endow," his father said, in a whisper that could be heard all over the church:

"Heavens! There goes his bicycle!"

The Ravings Of a Grouch

I have had some hard knocks in my lifetime, but I congratulate myself that I have come through pretty well unscathed. And as I look around I believe that adversity is the only thing that can give one sympathy and understanding for those who are down and out, or at least unsuccessful.

I know men favored and fortunate all their lives who cannot understand how a man can be a failure either in business or in morals. They do not see that men have different qualifications, that where one will make good others will fall down. Men are often to blame for their failures, it is true, but often again they are not. There was a time when I believed my success due entirely to my own efforts, but misfortune came and left me almost penniless, and I gave me, as I said, a deeper sympathy for those who are not riding on top of the wave. This prosperous man who cannot understand his brother's failure! Were he limited by the other's traits of character, his training, his heredity, his environment, would he be successful in spite of all?

More than once I have seen a woman, safely sheltered and cared for in her father's home, only to go from there to be equally protected and cherished by her husband, sit back smugly and virtuously as she regarded some girl who had been thrown on her own resources at an early age and buffeted about by the world. How would this self-sufficient woman conduct herself if she were deprived of the protecting care that had always surrounded her?

Does the recording angel give us credit for the good we might have done if we had been given the chance that was allotted to another? And does he give us a debit for the wrong we would have done if we had been tempted as was another? I believe so, for the recording angel must be fair and just. I cannot believe that a person of weak character who has never known temptation can be as good as the one who has met temptation and withstood it. I cannot believe that the one who has done wrong is any worse in the sight of God than the one who would do the same under like conditions but who has never encountered the same circumstances.

I do not mean to say that we should not try to make our lives count in the world. We should distinguish between right and wrong and if we choose the wrong, take the punishment and censure that is sure to come like men. I am only asking for a little more sympathy and understanding from those who are fortunate and successful and prosperous for those who are almost spent in buffering the waves of the sea of life.

MAY DISCONTINUE WATER IN CANYON

Say Water Company Can Cut Off Supply; Residents Demand Hearing

Residents of the portion of Sycamore Canyon lying outside the Glendale city limits are alarmed over the possibility that their water supply may be cut off, as seen in the application of the Sycamore Canyon Water company to the State Railroad commission for dissolution.

A hearing before the commission has been set for 10 o'clock Monday morning, July 28, in their Los Angeles offices, when Ray L. Morrow, Glendale city attorney, will be present to represent the interests of residents in this section. While Glendale is in no way compelled to guard the interests of these people, Mr. Morrow states that every effort will be made to protect their water supply.

The Sycamore Canyon Water company will be represented before the commission by Wellborn & Wellborn, Los Angeles attorneys. An effort will be made to show that the company is not in a financially healthy condition and should therefore be dissolved out of interest to the stockholders.

The city of Glendale is selling this company a large portion of the water they distribute to residents of Sycamore Canyon. Mr. Morrow states. It is not the desire of the city water department to take over distribution of water in this section, according to Mr. Morrow, and an effort will be made to compel the Sycamore Canyon Water company to continue their distribution until some arrangement equitable to all parties can be made.

The Verdugo Canyon Water company, in which the city of Glendale holds a majority of the stock, met this afternoon at 2 o'clock in the City Hall, to consider matters relative to their source of supply, which is the natural reservoir of Verdugo Woodlands. The meeting was presided over by J. C. Sherer, city treasurer, in his capacity as chairman of the board of directors. This is the main subsidiary company of the Glendale water system.

BOOST GLENDALE ON EASTERN TRIP

Edwin W. Evans and Family
En Route Home After Long Journey

Mr. and Mrs. Edwin W. Evans and daughter, Carol Mae, of 1214 South Mariposa street, who left Glendale last October on an extensive motor trip east, are now in East Las Vegas, New Mexico, visiting with relatives and friends en route home.

A letter written to The Glendale Evening News by Mrs. Evans from Covington, Ky., on July 22, reads as follows:

"We have surely enjoyed every copy of The Evening News since we left home. We want to congratulate you on your new home and we are sure anxious to return, for we realize the many wonderful changes that have taken place since we left there.

"I have passed the copies of The Evening News on to many who are interested in California and we are very proud of the paper because in Covington, a city of about 100,000 people, they do not publish a paper of their own, but have a few columns in the Cincinnati papers. Mr. Evans, our 10-year-old daughter, Carol Mae, and myself motored through last fall, leaving Glendale on October 10, and arrived in Covington, November 6, after making several stops. We encountered very wet roads through Arizona and Kansas. We boosted Glendale all the way and are still boosting it. Have received some booklets from the Chamber of Commerce concerning Glendale and am going to pass them out all along the way."

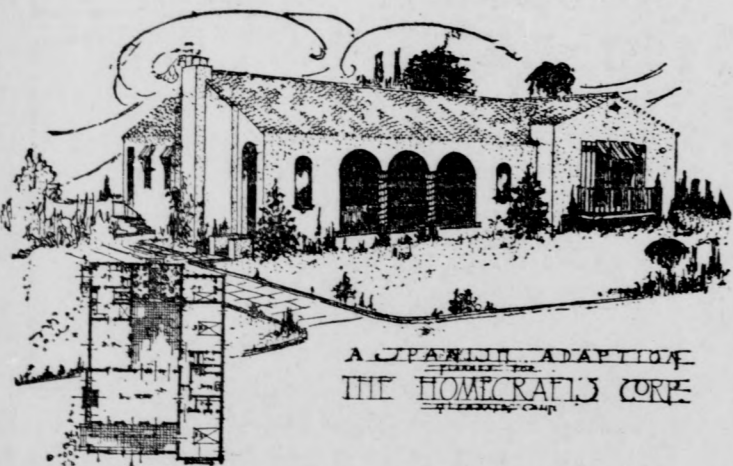

Back From Vacation In Big Bear Valley

Mr. and Mrs. A. Moniot and Mr. Moniot's sister, Miss Louise Moniot, returned yesterday afternoon to their home at 905 East Windsor road, after a two weeks' vacation spent in the Big Bear valley. They all report a wonderful time and declare the resort has never been as popular as this season. The lake is far better than people think it is, according to Mr. Moniot, who is known to his many friends as "Al," one of the firemen of the Glendale fire department.

Store Dairy Products In Increased Amounts

CHICAGO, July 26.—The quantity of dairy products in storage is larger than last year at this time. Creamery butter stored totals 74,448,000 pounds, compared to 62,768,000 in July, 1923, and 66,371,000 for the five-year average. American cheese in storage is 45,618,000. Swiss cheese stored amounts to 5,856 pounds compared with 2,989 at this time last year.

Oyster yield of this country is more than $15,000,000 a year.

This is the first of 40 high class houses to be erected by us in the Rossmoyne Tract this year. It is to be located on Mountain Drive close to Rossmoyne Ave., and will consist of a spacious living room 28' x 16', with large massive fireplace, barreled ceiling, two large bedrooms, sleeping porch, kitchen, nook and bath. It will be of distinct Spanish architecture, with patio and pergola effect.

These homes will be offered for sale as soon as plans and specifications are out, thus giving the purchaser a chance to make such minor alterations as will be necessary to meet his individual requirements.

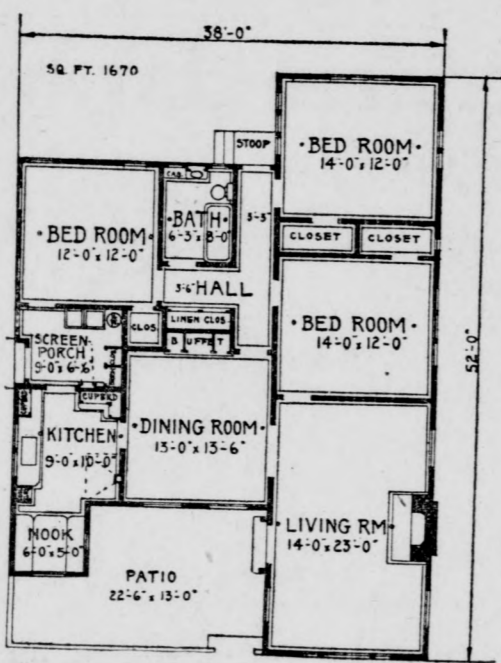

Each Saturday these designs will be published for your inspection, and if interested, plans and specifications can be further inspected at our office.

Tank Heater Causes Everett Street Fire

A fire starting in the roof of the one-story frame house occupied by W. E. Mowrey at 238 South Everett street at 5:15 o'clock yesterday afternoon did $500 damage before it was extinguished by the Glendale fire department. Chief A. H. Lankford, who was in charge, reports the cause of the blaze as an automatic tank heater. G. F. Dare of 818 East Colorado boulevard is the owner of the house.

Agriculture is the principal industry of the Canary Islands and there is so little rain that nearly 500 stationary engines are kept busy irrigating.

Glendale is the fastest growing city in America located at the north gateway of Los Angeles, at the foot of the majestic mountains with their roaring streams, wooded canyons and beautiful mountain resorts. On one side of Glendale is Pasadena, and on the other is the rich, fertile, productive San Fernando valley. Hollywood is just over the beautiful hills of Griffith Park (second largest city park in the United States), which adjoins Glendale. No wonder Glendale is the fastest growing city in the world.

The above plans were furnished by the Bentley Lumber company, situated at 460 West Los Feliz road. At the offices of this organization may be seen hundreds of similar plans. Homes like these keep Glendale a beautiful city of homes. All home builders are urged to inspect their plan service department. Quarterly Meet of Realty Directors Is Called by Barbour

The quarterly meeting of the board of directors of the California Real Estate association will be held at Long Beach Saturday, August 16, according to President Henry P. Barbour, who has notified the directors in 103 towns in California having representation in the association that important matters relative to legislation will be discussed at the meeting.

Freeman H. Bloodgood, first real estate commissioner of the United States, and the chairman of the legislative committee of the association, will outline the plans of his committee at that time.

It is likely that the association will take some position relative to the Colorado river question at the meeting, for on the 15th of August, the seventy-five members of the Colorado river committee of the association will meet at Long Beach to discuss what recommendations the realtors of California shall make relative to the harnessing of the waters of that great river.

P. E. Employees' Picnic Scheduled for Aug. 16

The annual picnic and reunion of employees of the Pacific Electric railway is scheduled for Saturday, August 16, and will be held at Redondo Beach, an official announcement from the railway's headquarters states. As many of the company's 6500 employees as can be relieved from duty without interfering with train service, their families and friends, will gather at this popular resort, and it is expected that 15,000 persons will be in attendance.

An extensive program of events, amusements and contests is being arranged, among which are athletic events, dancing, fish-feeding, vaudeville, chorus and band recitals. As is the usual custom, the program for the amusement of the kiddies is receiving particular attention, free rides, drinks, ice cream, souvenirs and prize contests being scheduled for their pleasure. Extra service from various parts of the Pacific Electric system has been arranged to handle the throngs.

W. A. McCammond, general agent of the real estate and resort department, has been chosen as president of the arrangement committee and together with a corps of committeemen is working diligently to make this year's cutting the banner one.

Meline's New Division To Specialize On Hollywood And Valley Properties

The Frank Meline company, realizing today's need of service, and keenly analytical as to the trend of population and the intense interest manifested in the north and northwest sections of Los Angeles, makes two announcements of interest in realty circles and of importance to buyers and sellers of real estate.

One of these announcements is of the formation of what is to be known as the Hollywood and San Fernando Valley division of the Frank Meline company; the other is the appointment of O. S. Strain, formerly general sales manager to the position of general manager of the new division.

Frank L. Meline, president of the big realty organization that bears his name, commenting on the announcement, said: "Hollywood is the birthplace of the Frank Meline company and I have always regarded that district and the great San Fernando Valley back of it as our choicest and offering a future not to be compared with any other like section of Southern California. Surely, it is only a matter of time when palatial homes and comfortable bungalows will cover the hills between the San Fernando Valley and the Hollywood of today and when the San Fernando Valley will be almost as densely populated as some of our residential sections now are."

Manager Promoted
"The Hollywood and San Fernando Valley division is formed in order to fully and intensively cover brokerage sales and subdivisions in that district and Mr. Strain is taking the general management of the division as a well-earned promotion to him and as a service to the company and our clients. Several offices will be required within the division and Mr. Strain will make his headquarters in the main Hollywood office at 6777 Hollywood boulevard. No one will be appointed to the position Mr. Strain leaves to take over this new work and he will continue to supervise our regular semi-monthly sales meetings."

O. S. Strain is one of the best known realty men in Los Angeles, having entered the real estate field seventeen years ago, and has been identified with Southern California real estate since 1911, having been associated, during

Building Prospects Show Upward Trend In Volume All Over United States

Prospective building operations throughout the entire country continue to increase in volume as the season advances, notwithstanding an unmistakable slowing down in many sections, according to the national monthly building survey of S. W. Straus & Company. During the first six months of this year 328 cities and towns reported plans filed and building permits issued amounting to $1,966,082,235, a gain of 8 per cent over the corresponding period of 1923.

Official records in the same cities and towns revealed June building plans and permits amounting to $299,682,315, a gain of 10 per cent over June last year.

Inasmuch as these records constitute the only official figures in existence giving a dependable indication of future building tendencies, they may be accepted as proof that prospective building operations in the United States as a whole have attained unprecedented volume.

Saturation Point
Analysis of the reports indicates that the saturation point in building seems to have been reached in many sections. Nevertheless, the onward sweep of the building movement in the large cities has more than overbalanced the recessions alluded to.

The twenty-five cities which led in plans filed and permits issued during the half-year ended July 1, showed a gain of 11 per cent over 1923.

In June these same cities gained 19 per cent over the same month last year and 15 per cent over June, 1922.

It is of interest to note that these twenty-five cities reported prospective building operations amounting to 67 per cent of the total amount reported by 328 cities and towns for the first six months of the year.

Cities Show Gains
Among the cities showing large gains for the half year period were: New York, $133,451,325; Detroit, $22,193,000; Rochester, $3,981,192; Boston, $4,984,687; Newark, $3,593,941; Cleveland, $3,569,440; Milwaukee, $3,060,333; Buffalo, $3,187,000; Seattle, $3,153,505 and San Francisco, $2,127,477.

The cities showing the greatest gains in June as compared with June, 1923, were: Chicago, $16,604,700; New York, $13,008,001;

Detroit, $4,459,793; Philadelphia, $2,738,005; Cleveland, $1,932,075; Milwaukee, $977,778; Buffalo, $839,000; Newark, N. J., $792,193; Louisville, $373,197 and Denver, $318,150.

In ninety-three Eastern cities the gain was 20 per cent for the half year and 17 per cent over June last year. In 107 Central cities, the loss from the first half of last year was 3 per cent and the gain over June, 1923, was 23 per cent. In seventy-six Pacific Western cities, the loss from the first half of last year was 4 per cent and the loss from June last year was 28 per cent. In fifty-two Southern cities, the gain over the first six months last year was 4 per cent and the gain over June, 1923, was 14 per cent.

New York Figures
Greater New York showed a gain for the half year of about 31 per cent. The gain in New York over June, 1923, was 22 1/2 per cent, while Chicago gained 93 per cent. New York's gain over June, 1922, was 42 per cent. All of the boroughs of New York showed substantial gains for the six months and Queens was the only one of the five boroughs which showed a loss from last June.

The general tendency in building was upward, although the north brought forth some scattered instances of reduced wages to skilled craftsmen in the smaller cities. June saw further recessions in material prices. As in May, the declines were confined almost wholly to lumber and structural steel. Douglas fir prices were stabilized at levels established in May, but Southern pine continued to drop until the last few days of June. Starting materials witnessed a slight softening in New York City. In other cities they remained practically unchanged.

Uncle Sam's regular business closed temporarily today noon, so that every possible effort could be made to have everything in readiness for the opening Monday morning in the new Postoffice at East Broadway and Jackson street.

It is possible, Postmaster Jackson states, that some of the divisions will be operating in the new quarters on Saturday afternoon. The work on the lobby, where the lock boxes and the department windows are located, is almost completed now.

Fifteen Windows

There will be fifteen windows for the transaction of the business of the postoffice, but Postmaster Jackson points out that not all of these windows will be used at the same time except in case of a rush of business or an emergency, but only such as are required to handle the volume of business will be used.

As soon as the new postoffice has been fully completed a formal opening day will be held, at which time, all the residents of Glendale will be invited to inspect the building in detail.

Diet And Health

By LULU HUNT PETERS, M. D.

ANSWERS TO CORRESPONDENTS

Mrs. R.—Yes, duodenal and stomach ulcers can be cured by correct dietetic and medicinal treatment. A patient usually has to be confined to bed for three or four weeks. The dietetic treatment differs with each case. Sometimes a fast is ordered; sometimes milk, two or three ounces every hour or so. Then later, strained cream soups or vegetables, purees of vegetables and fruit, cereal gruels and soft-cooked eggs, cottage cheese, and the like are added to the list of foods. Sometimes the patient has to be fed through a special tube. There are some cases that have to be operated upon, but even those cases have to have treatment along medicinal and dietetic lines for several months. There is no danger of catching this ulcer from your husband in any way.

Miss F.—No, you don't have to go on a three-day liquid diet in order to start your reduction regime. You can start right in on 1000 or 1200 C. a day. I advise the three-day liquid diet because it really does shrink the stomach, so that when you begin your diet it does not demand as much food and you lose from five to ten pounds! This gives you a short time on the liquid diet makes you feel faint and dizzy, don't do it. Start on the 1000-1200 C.

Mrs. F.—If possible, go to a nose and throat specialist. It would seem that you have some chronic inflammation of the cavities in the bones of the face that are connected with the nose, or that there is a growth in the nose, or thickening in some place that is damming up the mucous. The following local treatment will probably help you: first, the thorough cleansing of the nose. Get a strong atomizer and use a salt and soda solution (one teaspoon of salt and one teaspoon of baking soda to the pint of water). After this cleansing, use some antiseptic oil preparation with the atomizer. A good formula is menthol, five grains; camphor, five grains; liquid petroleum, four ounces. You should wash your teeth and mouth two or three times a day and scrape off that coating on your tongue with a piece of whetstone, or another piece of whetstone, or another dull edged article. Send for our article on constipation.

You should have some special exercises for your back which you say tires so easily. Send for our article on Atonic Abdominal Wall. That will strengthen your abdominal wall and the back also, although it is probable the trouble is due to absorption of poisons from your nose. How about your

Steel Market Shows Increased Activity

PITTSBURGH, July 26.—A more hopeful viewpoint is being taken by the Pittsburgh steel manufacturers and a moderate revival of buying is anticipated in the near future. Prices have been holding their own in the present dull market and this has encouraged the operators. Pig iron also is in a better situation, as many interests seem willing to take on fair tonnages for speculative purposes. One large maker of automobile parts has placed some excellent steel orders lately and is said to have declared his business has shown a material improvement this month with automobile manufacturers more free in their releases for parts than at any time since April.

CHAPTER XII

"George was telling us at the Club about that abstinence," a young man began. But Mrs. George continued the narrative. Craig, bored with nearly two years of the subject, turned toward the small and exquisitely dressed woman who had come to stand quietly beside him. Violet Vanderwort was beautiful tonight in a gown of moss-green velvet against whose smooth lines a great parrot, in blazing blues and oranges, had been embroidered. She wore sweeping parrot feathers in her hair, and her fan showed the same barbaric splendor. She was a pale woman, who dieted and massaged and steamed herself almost into anemia; all the Dwyer girls were afraid of getting fat.

"How's Vi?" he asked, with a brother's keen smile.

"Not any too buxom, Si!" she answered, using a phrase from a certain rather coarse story that had been going the rounds. "Reg tells me you won't go to Nassau with us. Come and make love to me somewhere!"

"What, before dinner?"

She looked down, with an unchanged expression of boredom and dissatisfaction upon her face.

"You're better at it after dinner," she asked.

They had moved a little apart from the group, and were in the somewhat sheltered angle of a great, diamond-paned window embrasure. Craig smiled at the petulant, lovely face.

"You ought to know, Vi!" he reminded her briefly.

For answer she looked up with suddenly animation and fire; she was always playing parts, thankful only to any one who gave her an opportunity.

"You never asked me, Craig!" she said, in a low voice.

"No, dear," Craig said, after the correct pause. "And I never went over and asked the Princess Tarla, Craig, you're nice!" Violet said, raising her eyes and smiling. And as a maid appeared with more cocktails she took one, and sipped it daintily, while Craig lighted his cigarette.

"Craig!" a dashing young matron challenged him, joining them suddenly, "tell me some naughty stories. You men are getting so stingy with them. Rose West told me one yesterday—I was telling Vi. Hear about—I oughtn't to drink this, my husband will skin me—hear about the little boy and the airplane?"

Craig had heard it, but he had listened to it again. "Bobby"

Wendell, as this sprightly lady called, had a reputation for shady stories, and for violent oaths at the card-table, as well. To him, who had carried into his unbelieving twenties a recollection of his church-going mother and aunts, her broad irreverences were shocking as well, but there was small piety in this particular group.

"Say, Craig," she said, when Violet had left them alone, "don't you think it is something awful the way people are talking about Vi and Reg?"

Craig disliked the woman, and he disliked the custom, common in this society, of instantly plunging into intimate revelations regarding any person who chanced to leave a group. So it was with his least encouraging aspect that he said:

"I didn't know they were."

"Didn't!" Mrs. Wendell echoed, animated and incredulously. "My dear, they say . . . She told him what they said."

"That's nonsense!" Craig assured her, nettled and unconvinced.

Mrs. Wendell watched him shrewdly. She would have liked him to believe it, but if he preferred to take it this way, she could turn even this to account.

"Isn't it too bad," she said, eagerly, "Of course there's not one word of truth in it! I was furious. I said to the people that told me, that everyone else in the world could talk about Vi, but that I thought it was utter nonsense. I'll tell you what let's do, Craig, you and I," she added, suddenly. Craig was again conscious of his keen dislike and contempt for her. He hated these loud-mouthed married women who were always planning things for him, "Just you and I." "Let's form ourselves into a little club," suggested Bobby, "without saying one word to any one, and just stand up for Vi, and defend her, you know—that sort of thing. Shall we? She hasn't much judgment herself, poor child—never did have. One of the most intimate friends that Reg's sister, Kate Pierson, has, told me that Reg never would have married Vi, wasn't any more in love with her than he was with dozens of other girls—why, Reg's Vanderwolt and I danced our first game together—"

"Say, aren't you folks going to eat?" said Mrs. Dwyer, hospitably, ponderously approaching. "Come on—you know there's going to be a lot more in to dance. Don't look so scared,

Starting Sunday, July 27, Murphy's Comedians will present the thrilling drama, "The Price She Paid," a vehicle that calls for an outstanding degree of histrionic ability on the part of the members of the cast, to bring out its fine points.

THE T. D. & L.

"The Perfect Flapper" concludes at the T. D. & L. theatre today. Sunday, Monday and Tuesday, "The King of Wild Horses" is the feature.

Craig, she added, laughing, "just about forty in all." He Butlers and some people they have for dinner, and the Saunderses. It's a Hunt Dinner, you know, and had the Misses Joseph come out from Philadelphia with a lot of favors," Mrs. Dwyer continued, with her air of a benefactress who is about to be interrupted and praised; "it was nothing; just to please the youngsters!"

"Call me up and take me to lunch some day," Bobby said, departing. "Oh, you can't—you're in Mount Holly. Well, maybe I'll come down and spend the day with you some day soon. Do you think you could amuse me? Is there a place we could eat?"

"How's your baby?" Craig asked. For a picture of young Mrs. Wendell and her beautiful child had been going the rounds of the fashionable magazines.

"Oh, he's adorable. He's with Grandma Wendell in Miami now," his mother said, cheerfully. "They make an awful fuss about him. Call me up!"

The crowd, some twenty-four in all, had meanwhile moved into the dining room. Mrs. Dwyer drew Craig aside in the great hall.

"Look here!" she said, with a face of amusement and pride. She opened a doorway, and he looked into a spacious pantry now filled with long sticks upon which were large wooden horses' heads plumed, bridled, and pennanted. Above them on a ladder a dignified young Jewish girl turned from the work of ranging great equine masks upon shelves.

"Those are some of the favors, did you ever?" Mrs. Dwyer chuckled, admiringly. "The work we had to get them! The horses are all named for the real horses, you know. Well, it amuses the youngsters," she added, resuming her deprecatory benevolent manner. "Watch Cy, won't you, Craig?" she added, in an aside. "Our regular bootlegger didn't come round this week, and God knows what the boy has been drinking! Isn't it terrible?"

INDIANS LOSE AS HOOD HITS HARD

Wally Raps Out Two Bingles Off as Many Pitches For Five Runs

By BEN McGUIRE
For Southland News Service.
LOS ANGELES, July 26.—When Wally Hood stepped up to bat at crucial moments in yesterday's game between the Angels and Indians, he spelled defeat for Seattle. He was responsible for five runs of the 6 to 2 victory. Root held the Siwash tribe nicely and Stenlund was pitching an excellent game until the sixth inning when Bill Essick's hired hands tumbled to his delivery. Not only did they chase Stenlund for more comfortable quarters in the clubhouse, but they landed on perky Percy Jones for additional runs.

Star fielding on the part of Twombly and McAuley for the Angels and Crane and Eldred for the Indians kept the score from being greater. Hood's triple in the sixth started the victory march and doubles by Root and Hood in the seventh drove enough more runs over the plate to sew up the game.

Cutshaw is managing the Indian tribe, Red Killefer having been indefinitely suspended for miscellaneous remarks addressed to Umpire Plimney on Thursday, according to the advice of President Harry A. Williams.

Both Portland and San Francisco used four pitchers in their game yesterday which resulted 10 to 8 in favor of the latter. Brazil made three home runs for the Beavers.

At Oakland the Bees won, 7 to 4, when they chased Foster in the third.

Vernon pounced on Peters and Stroud at Sacramento and won 16 to 3, with Penner pitching an even game.

Pasadena Elks Fall Before Glendalians

The Pasadena Elks fell before the Glendale Elks in the bowling match held last night at the Recreation alleys. The first game went to the local team, 963-894. The second game was won by the visitors, 989-915, while the third and deciding game was taken by Glendale, 911-8, 963-874. Christensen of Pasadena was high score man, getting 200, 268 and 226. Pete Neise rolled 233 in the last game.

The Cubs lost to the Phils, 10 to 4, and failed to gain.

Jeff Pfeffer celebrated his transfer from St. Louis to Pittsburgh by trimming the Braves, 2 to 1, the Pirates moving into third place, while rain kept Brooklyn and Cincinnati idle.

No games were scheduled in the American league.

At New York—Young Bob Fitzsimmons, New York, knocked out Ted Jamieson, Milwaukee, in the tenth round; Bill Henry, Chicago, outpointed Ruby Stein, Brooklyn.

At Allentown, Pa.—Johnny Leonard, Allentown, outpointed Willie Davis, Elizabeth, ten rounds.

Week's Advance Worth 50 Millions to Farmers

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn., July 26.—Advances in the market prices of agricultural products would bring northwestern farmers $50,000,000 more than a week ago if they could sell their crops now, according to crop experts of the University of Minnesota. Speculative trading has been abnormally heavy for ten days.

WENATCHEE, Wash., July 26.—Twenty-three of the twenty-seven buildings in the business district of Twisp, 100 miles north of here, were in ashes today and several hundred people are homeless, after the most destructive fire in the history of Okanogan county, in which the loss will total more than $250,000.

WRITER APPROVES COMMITTEE WORK

Elimination of 10,000 Metre Cross-Country Run Is Right, Says Champ

By WALTER CAMP
Special Correspondent of The Glendale Evening News, Copyright, 1924
NEW YORK, July 26.—When last week the writer criticized the 10,000 metre cross-country run he little expected that the event would be dropped so summarily from the Olympic program. None the less, such action has been taken and with this feature has been eliminated the 10,000 metre walk, the pentathlon and the 3,000 metre team race.

The wisdom of dropping this last event may be questioned, since evidence is in hand so far as this country is concerned that relay races are the most popular of all track events. Consider the popularity of the Penn relays where the attendance eclipses all other events relating to track and field.

The writer hopes, as many other persons interested in the sport also hope, that the Olympic committee has not been too precipitate in this matter and has excellent grounds for its action. From the distance it looks like a severe blow to Finland, who piled up 49 points in three of these events.

Finns Are Heroes
Finland is the hero of the hour and justly so. Her athletes have demanded that the other countries, notably the United States, need a lot of education in distance running and it seems that it would become them to take it up with seriousness rather than to assume an air of hostility toward this branch of running.

As for the 10,000 metre run it was held on a very hot day and, again, the course seemed to have been selected with any great degree of consideration for the participants. This combination and perhaps not the event itself, may have caused the trouble.

CHEERS OF YANKS GREEK TO FRENCH

Misunderstandings Cause of All Trouble at Rugby, Stars Declare

By LAWRENCE PERRY
Special Correspondent of The Glendale Evening News, Copyright, 1924
NEW YORK, July 26.—French misunderstanding of American cheering methods caused the trouble at the rugby football match, America versus France, according to members of the advance guard of returning athletes.

With a foreign player hurt cheer leaders, during the pause in the game, would call for cheers for the American team—just as happens in football games in this country. But the French thought the Americans were cheering because a player of the opposing team had been injured. So naturally there was the dickens to pay in the stands. Next day the Paris newspapers set the matter right and all contained leading editorials couched in apologetic language.

Stars Are Falling
How many of the track athletes who represented the United States at Paris this year will be available for the 1928 Olympics? Not very many—if any.

Speed is not an enduring asset. A very few years bring those changes that transform a star performer into an ordinary one.

Of the American track athletes who participated in the Olympic games at Antwerp in 1920 only three survived, professionally speaking, of course, to carry the standard at Paris. They were sprinters, Scholz, Murchison and Paddock.

GARDENA TEAM AT GLENDALE SUNDAY

White Sox Want to Increase String to Twenty-five; Reiger Is Back

Tomorrow's bill of fare for baseball fans of Glendale will include a game between the championship White Sox team and the hard-hitting Gardena lads, one of the strongest teams in the Bay district league. The game will be played at the ball park on San Fernando, and will start at 2:30 o'clock.

Leading the Gardena aggregation into action will be "Hefty" Hilton, famed for his recent no-hit, no-run game pitched against another Bay district team. Should Hilton be working at top form tomorrow, it will mean the champions will take a tumble, and their string of twenty-four consecutive victories will be cut short.

However, Carl Sawyer has been putting his men through their paces the last few days, and the pale horse wearers will have their batting eyes open when they walk up to the rubber tomorrow. The whole team is anxious to make their record number of wins an even quarter century mark, and to do this they will have to overcome the Gardena squad tomorrow.

Reiger Is Back

Elmer Reiger, who was unable to pitch last Sunday against the Van Nuys aggregation, on account of illness, will be on the mound tomorrow according to advance dope. Reiger is back in his old-time form and will work. Behind the plate will be "Big Boy" Joe Sullivan, who has just returned from a four days' trip into Mexico, with Shellenbach, first baseman.

Sawyer will hold down the key-stone sack, with Shields at third and Hirigoyen at short. In the outer gardens will be Young, Dorman and Orsatt.

DICK RIGHTHANDS WAY TO VICTORY

Frankie Pitcher Outpointed By Hoppe In Fight on Hollywood Card

Dick Hoppe, popular scrapper of Glendale, who has appeared in Southern rings on several occasions, right-handed his way to victory last night in his bout with Frankie Pitcher of Brooklyn at Hollywood American Legion stadium. Pitcher, who brought a reputation as a right-hand mauler to Hollywood from the east, succeeded in landing several hard blows, but not enough to fasten the decorations on Hoppe more than Dick hung on the easterner.

At the end of four slashing rounds, Pitcher stalked from the ring with his face bruised and bleeding, while Hoppe was practically unmarked. The referee directed their blows to the face and right mitts were in use most of the time.

Eddie Diggins and Tommy Carter fought to a draw in the semi-windup, after Diggins had scored a knockdown in the second round.

Frankie Tierney, substituting for Red Cole, got an even break with Jimmy Lanning in the special spot. Nick Ontario did not know his stuff well enough and Rusty Russell got the decision. Timmy Richards won over Frankie Brown easily. Lewis Jordan lost a decision to Young Garcia, and Battling Ward was an easy victor over Champ Munroe.

Paul Biese and his famous dance orchestra scored a big hit with the fight fans, and Theodore Roberts, grand old man of the movies, was loudly cheered when he made his appearance in a wheel chair.

CHURCHES

GLENDAL church people of nearly all denominations are to hear messages from Presbyterian ministers attending the synodical meeting at the Glendale Presbyterian church. Rev. W. E. One of the features of the Sunday services will be a young people's rally at 3 o'clock in the afternoon at the Glendale Presbyterian church. Addresses will be given by Rev. William C. Covert, secretary of the board of education, and Rev. Charles Scanlon, secretary for moral welfare.
